Future speakers: We haven't had the guy with the cleaning supplies here for a while (three years). Tom will check with him and see if he's interested. He will also check for the size of a minimum order.

Discussion: The members present engaged in a general discussion of the possible fallout from the Parkland school shootings. To keep up with the happenings in Olympia, the GOAL POST was mentioned. GOAL POST is a weekly email publication of the Gun Owners Action League (Joe Waldron) when the Washington legislature is in session. The Club subscribes and re-publishes it on our web site. It usually arrives Friday evening and we post it to the web site as soon as possible (usually Friday night).

Show and Tell: Two people brought in five firearms.

Robert Angwin brought three rifles he has refurbished.

- Winchester 22 pump
- 1913 British Enfield
- Sears Model T-1 actually made by Winchester (this one is still in progress)

Jason Martin brought two long guns.

- An AR-15 built from an 80% kit. Boeing actually paid for this (probably unknowingly) as a part of an advanced armorer training course. [More detail to come] He has added some things not part of the kit included in the training course. One thing in particular was the adjustable stock with a spare magazine.
- An AR-12 (unofficial designation?). A 12 ga. shotgun built to look like an AR-15. Built by Panzer and imported by PW Arms, Redmond, WA. It cost about $400.

Meeting adjourned about 6:35 pm

Addendum: After the meeting ended, WCAN was asked about Bay 4 (which is being converted from a storage area to a shooting bay). We were told that the conversion should be complete by the beginning of March and it will be available to rent for activities.

Respectfully submitted
