Items discussed:

- Christmas Party
Yes, we want to hold one. Last year's budget was about $70 for pizza and prizes.
- Recreation Center
We have a new insurance policy as of Oct. 1.
- Shooting event
We discussed scheduling a shooting event. We noted that we would need a release and liability waiver from participants. Also it will need to be made clear that charges for hitting the walls or ceiling would be passed on to the participant.
- Officers
It was noted (again) that we need to start finding officers for next year. The treasurer is on his third term, and the president and secretary are on their second and final term.

- Safety Fair
The Safety Fair is coming soon. We have had a table there before. We need to see if there is interest and participating again.
- Training
In the past, the training program has been the Club's mainstay. It was suggested and agreed that we try to hold a Basic Pistol class even if it fails to break even financially to get that started again. Fred will try to get a handle on the new NRA Instructor-Led Training before the next meeting in two weeks.
- Club survival
The Club has been dwindling of late. Club lore is that membership was down to two people (Wayne Wessels and one other). We should ask Wayne what they did to revive the Club. Posting brochures was also suggested.
- Speakers
We don't have any speakers lined up at this time. Bringing Steve Pennington back was suggested, but turn out hasn't been great for his recent presentations.

Respectfully submitted,
Fred Crary, Secretary
